

Better Health Through Social Networking? or, Facebook is Not Just for Kids

Charlene Chausis,
Mgr. Technology and Training
Adlai E. Stevenson High School, Lincolnshire, IL

- Are you confused about social networking tools like Facebook, MySpace, Twitter, or LinkedIn?
- This session will provide an overview of popular Social Networking tools, with an emphasis on Internet Safety for both adults and teens.

5 Ways Social Media is Changing Our Daily Lives

1. Where we get our news
2. How we start and do business
3. How we meet and stay in touch with people
4. What we reveal
5. What we can influence

<http://mashable.com/2009/10/16/social-media-changing-lives/>

Quick fire Quiz

What's the number 1
activity on the Web?

~~Pornography?~~

Social Media

www.easykey.net
easykey

Quick fire Quiz

What percentage of consumers trust
Advertisements?

14%

What percentage of consumers trust
Peer Recommendations?

78%

www.easykey.net
easykey

Social Networks?

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6a\_KF7TYKVc

Popular Social Networks

twitter

LinkedIn

facebook

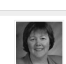

myspace.com
a place for friends

LinkedIn

LinkedIn

Charlene Chausis
Greater Chicago Area

• Contact Charlene Chausis
• Add Charlene Chausis to your network

Connections  120 connections

Industry Primary/Secondary Education

View Full Profile

Public profiles powered by: LinkedIn

Create a public profile: Sign In or Join Now

View Charlene Chausis's full profile:

- See who you and Charlene Chausis know in common
- Get introduced to Charlene Chausis
- Contact Charlene Chausis directly

View Full Profile

Name Search:
Search for people you know from over 80 million professionals already on LinkedIn.

(example: Charlene Chausis)

is Twitter for Twits and Facebook a Farce?

What's all the hype about?

www.easykey.net

The Oprah effect: Friday, 4/17/09

The Power of Twitter

In 2006, a small internet company in San Francisco developed a fast, new way to share and discover what's happening right now. Twitter.com was born, and in the past three years, this simple concept has attracted more than 14 million users and taken the world by storm!

Every day, celebrities, politicians, moms and dads log on to answer the question, "What are you doing?" The answer is called a "tweet," and it can be as short as anything...as long as it's short. Posts are limited to 140 characters or less.

Users post everything from food dates and marriage proposals to breaking news. In January 2008, a Twitterer was the first to post a photo of the U.S. Airways plane that crash-landed into the Hudson River.

The Twitterverse boasts many notable users, including Ellen DeGeneres, Shogun Cheek, Ashton Kutcher, Demi Moore, Oprah King and Al Waxman's husband, ABC News anchor Oprah Winfrey.

Just months after Oprah joined Facebook, a popular social networking website, she's jumping on the Twitter bandwagon! "It's the cool," she says.

Check out Oprah's Twitter page!

Some of Oprah's famous friends are already posting on her site, including Al's husband. George writes in to ask Oprah to take care of his wife, who has a head cold. She also wrote up early to send Oprah one of her first tweets!

Ellen tweets to ask why Oprah's online instead of working on their O Magazine cover!

While the camera roll, Oprah attempts to send a tweet of her own. What's her first post? "ADDITION KITCHEN IS NEXT!" Then she writes, "14 TWITTERS. THANK YOU FOR A WARM WELCOME. FEELING REALLY 21ST CENTURY."

The Oprah effect: Saturday, 4/18/09

Home Profile Find People Settings Help Sign out

Oprah

10 231,835

Followers

Following

Updates 9

Favorite

Actions

Block Oprah

@kingstings hey Larry, wanted to tweet you on the show tonite. But will be in the air. Not sure about airtweets. Have fun with Ashton!

@THE_REAL_SHAG thanks for being my twitter buddy. this is cool.

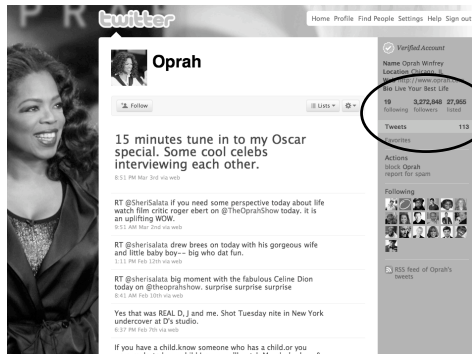

@iv great to have you on the show. I'm all a twitter. Having strawberry margaritas with producers in my office right now. Toasting you!

@mrkutcher count me in for 20,000 nets.

george that a promo not a tweet.

little jordan is next. love this kid

The Oprah effect: Saturday, 3/13/10

Twitter – Surely a waste of time?

twitter

Sad people with nothing better to do?

www.easykey.net
easykey

Building a PLN (Personal Learning Network)

twitter the Big Party

twitter the Big Party

- Look for people you might know
Twitter Search
- Find people who are into the things that interest you
Search Topics - follow people
- Listen to folks - so you begin to get to know them
Read carefully

www.easykey.net
easykey

twitter the Big Party

- Compliment people
Reply
- Let them know when you agree with something they say
Re-Tweet (RT)
- Ask a question about something that genuinely interests you
tweet

www.easykey.net
easykey

twitter the Big Party

Annoying People at the Party

What Not to Tweet

- Talk about their business
- Try to Sell you stuff
- Don't listen or ignore you
- Rude or Bad Language
- Irrelevant Conversation
- Mundane or Boring
- Selling Stuff

www.easykey.net

What are you doing?

<http://www.usatoday.com/video/index.html#Talking+Tech%3A+Status+messages/34328174001>

History of online Social Networks:

- 2003: Friendster used by “20-30-somethings” — originally dating
- 2003: MySpace started as a ‘rip-off’ of Friendster... rock musicians and indie rock bands used for publicity — drawing in teens.
- 2004: Facebook started in colleges (elite social network)
- 2005: Facebook accepted high school students
- 2006: Facebook accepts everyone

PewInternet
Pew Internet & American Life Project

REPORT: TEENAGE SOCIAL NETWORKING
Social Networking Websites and Teens

A social networking site is an online place where a user can create a profile and build a personal network that connects him or her to other users. In the past five years, such sites have rocketed from a niche activity into a phenomenon that engages tens of millions of internet users. More than half (55%) of all online American youths ages 12-17 use online social networking sites, according to a new national survey of teenagers conducted by the Pew Internet & American Life Project.

The survey also finds that older teens, particularly girls, are more likely to use these sites. For girls, social networking sites are primarily places to reinforce pre-existing friendships; for boys, the networks also provide opportunities for flirting and making new friends.

Teens, Privacy and Online Social Networks
Apr 18, 2007
Ananda Lambert

83% The percentage of flowering teens who like that they are more available due to profiles.

<http://pewinternet.org/>

MediaPost NEWS

ONLINE MEDIA DAILY
Home • Search • Online Media Daily • Friday, Apr. 17, 2009

Facebook Closing In On MySpace In U.S.
By Mark Walsh, Thursday, April 16, 2009, 10:45 PM

Facebook is catching up with MySpace in the U.S., according to comScore.

The social network added about 4 million unique visitors in March to reach 2.2 million and close within 9 million of MySpace, the top network in the U.S. But while MySpace's audience of 21.5 million fell by 4% in the last year, Facebook's has jumped 72%.

At current rate of growth, Facebook is poised to overtake its social networking rival in the U.S. in the next few months. The company already surpassed MySpace last year as the most-traffic social network globally. Facebook this month announced that it crossed the 200 million mark in active users worldwide, while MySpace has an estimated 130 million.

At stake in the U.S. are more than bragging rights, however, since the domestic market is where most of the ad dollars that Facebook and MySpace compete for come from. Facebook isn't the only social network to see complete for come from. Facebook isn't the only social network to see complete for come from. Facebook isn't the only social network to see complete for come from.

Twitter's audience tops 9.3 million

With less fanfare, AOL-owned Bebo nearly doubled its U.S. audience from 5.8 million to 10.8 million. Bebo in February gave users tools for livestreaming, an online service that lets people post frequent updates about their lives by aggregating blog posts, status updates, online photos and other online content. Adding livestreaming to their profiles also allows Bebo users to get updates from external sites such as Facebook and MySpace in this format.

TOOLS

EMAIL SUBSCRIBE
PRINT RSS
REPLY SHARE

RELATED ARTICLES

1. Research: Russia's Web, Google, YouTube, and Facebook
2. Facebook's New Look: Light On TV Ratings, Monopoly, Hottest Says It's Without Airtel
3. AOL: Names Google Exec To Lead Platform
4. Google: Local Online Spending To Grow 4%
5. Hi-Hi, Hi-Hi, It's Off To Porn Tube We Go
6. Research: Social Networks, Online

MOST READ

1. Pope John's Death: Know Its iPhone App From Its Eboni
2. Facebook's New Look: With Major Changes
3. Healthy Private Practice: Give ABC Thursday Sweep

150% Increase in Social Networking

- Project Tomorrow, the Irvine, California-based organization that sponsors an annual survey of students, teachers, parents, and administrators, saw a 150% increase between 2007 and 2008 “in the proportion of students using Facebook and other social-networking sites to work with their peers on group projects for school.”

(“Schools Seen as Inhibiting Student Tech. Use,” Education Week, March 24, 2009).
http://www.edweek.org/ew/articles/2009/03/24/27digital\_h28.html

Countries: the 5 biggest Populations?

	China	1.3 billion
	India	1.1 billion
	USA	309 million
	Indonesia	231 million
	Brazil	193 million

Population of Facebook?

facebook

400 million

The 3rd largest “country”

...and growing!

facebook Info

Your Profile

Denis O'Regan

Wall Info Photos Events Links Causes

Basic Information

Gender: Male
 Birthdays: 27 June
 Hometown: Hertfordshire, Funeux Peham, United Kingdom
 Relationship Status: Married
 Interested in: Women
 Looking for: Friendship, Networking

Personal Information

Activities: Playing the Piano (Classical, Folk and in Rock Band)
 Interests: Photography, Bird Watching, Fishing
 Favourite Music: Sting, Stravinsky, Chopin, 35 Bach, Mark Isham, Steve Reich, Laurie Anderson, Sia, Coldplay, Hot Chip, Rancid
 Favourite TV Programmes: Jools Holland, Man stroke Woman, The IT Crowd, The Apprentice

Information

Birthday: 27 June
 Hometown: Hertfordshire, Funeux Peham, United Kingdom
 Websites: <http://www.easykey.net>

Friends

facebook Wall

Collection of Activities

What's on your mind?

Attach:

Denis O'Regan

Getting Excel to Display Currency
 You can change the way Microsoft Excel formats numbers so it is display you noticed if you type numbers into cells how it is actually displayed? 1 Format. Look at the figures on the right.... Display as Currency Do you See more 16 February at 23:50 via twitterfeed · Comment · Like

Recent Activity

Denis posted a link to Using the Internet to Promote Your Business's I
 Denis and Geoff Wills are now friends. · Comment · Like

Some Fun

Sarah Hector

I just sent you a snowball!
 Here's a snowball! See what it is! Please send me on

Generation Y

what is Generation

- "Echo Boomer"
- "Millennial"
- Born 1982-95 (15 to 28 years)

Characteristics of Generation Y

- Individual Expression (most radical change in China)
- More Culturally Liberal and Morally Tolerant than Generation X
- The rise of instant Communication Technologies via the Internet
- The growth of Social Networking and Interactive Gaming platforms

Why the Sociology Lesson?

- In 2010 Gen Y will outnumber Gen X (Baby Boomers)
- 96% use at least one Social Network
- Fastest growing segment on Facebook?

55-65 year-old females

MediaPost NEWS

ONLINE MEDIA DAILY

Home • Search • Online Media Daily • Tuesday, Feb. 3, 2009

News Brief

Women Over Age 55 Fastest-Growing Group On Facebook

Tuesday, February 3, 2009, 8:30 AM

Article ▾ Comments (3) ▾

Attention, marketers targeting older women: Women age 55 and over are the fastest-growing U.S. demographic group on Facebook in the last three months, according to new data reported by Inside Facebook Monday. The number of women on Facebook is growing faster than men in almost every age group, and women now make up 56.7% of users.

Women over 55 have nearly tripled on Facebook since September to more than 717,000, and are nearly double the number of men in the same age group. The Facebook audience overall is getting older as its audience grows well beyond the base of college students it started with.

Almost a quarter of U.S. members are now age 35 and over, and 45% are 28 and up. Those ages 18 to 25 make up 43% of users, while teenagers account for 12%.

Dove, known for its Real Beauty campaign targeting women over 50, may have been ahead of the curve when it launched its first Facebook application in November. —Mark Walsh

TOOLS

EMAIL SUBSCRIBE
PRINT RSS
REPLY SHARE ▾

RELATED ARTICLES

1. AOL Has Google Exec To Lead Platform
2. Budget Local Online Spending To Grow
3. Hi Ho, Hi Ho, It's Off To Paris Tube We Go
4. US Unveils New Task Force To Review Ad Limits
5. Paid Search Can Create Negative Impact For Competitors

TAGS: Social Networks, Online

Facebook Today

- Facebook now has more than 400 million active users, up from only 50 million as recently as 2007.
- More than 50 percent of Facebook's members in the United States are 35 or older, and only 26.8 percent are 24 or under, according to an analysis of December 2009 visitors by comScore Media Metrix.
- Games are the killer app for Facebook. Because of their social nature, popular Facebook games produce direct network effects. The dedicated farmers of the FarmVille game — it attracts 83 million users a month — nudge friends to play and become virtual neighbors, enhancing their own game experience.

Year	Million Users
2009	400
2007	50

The Conversation: Facebook and FarmVille, Fun or Frivolous?
 ABC's Diane Sawyer and New York Times Writer Nick Bilton Dig Into FarmVille Craze

Feb. 24, 2010

WORLD NEWS
 WITH DIANE SAWYER

Share this story with friends
 Facebook Twitter Email Print RSS Facebook Twitter Email Print RSS

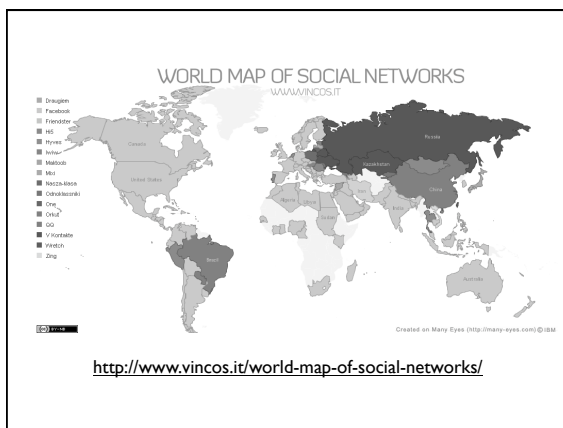

Facebook. It's the Internet phenomenon that shows no signs of slowing down. In the past week, Facebook surpassed Yahoo in popularity. It now sits comfortably in second place, with only Google blocking its complete Internet supremacy. And Facebook isn't just for reconnecting with former school friends and keeping up on the latest gossip. The world of Facebook games is ever-growing, with the popular FarmVille leading the way.

Love it or hate it, FarmVille now has close to 100 million users, with some 30 million active daily. So for today's Conversation, Diane Sawyer and New York Times technology writer Nick Bilton look at what makes Facebook and FarmVille so appealing. Bilton takes us through his own farm, explains the social networking aspect of the game and how some people are so dedicated to their farms that they use real money, yes real money, to buy virtual eggplants.

If you are tuned in to the world of Facebook and FarmVille, then you've got

<http://abcnews.go.com/WN/conversation-facebook-farmville/story?id=9931036>

<http://abcnews.go.com/WN/conversation-facebook-farmville/story?id=9931036>

Grow Your Own Social Network:
 "Ning.com" or "GROU.PS"

NING
 CREATE A NING NETWORK
 Let's get this show on the road!
 Name Your Ning Network
 For example, PINK CUPCAKE
 Pick a Web Address
 For example, pinkcupcake.ning.com
 CREATE

GROU.PS
 Create your own social network
 Site URL: http://
 Email:
 Password:
 IT'S FREE! To launch this website, join a group on GROU.PS.com.
 About Us | Accessibility | Feedback

Concerns ?

- Privacy

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/hyku/368912557/>

Facebook Applications & Privacy

<http://www.usatoday.com/video/index.html#How+Facebook+quizzes+and+games+grab+your+personal+info/49985670001>

Privacy

- Profile ▶ Control who can see your profile and personal information.
- Search ▶ Control who can search for you, and how you can be contacted.
- News Feed and Wall ▶ Control what Recent Activity is visible on your profile and in your friends' home pages.
- Applications ▶ Control what information is available to applications you use on Facebook.

Understand Privacy Settings

<http://www.allfacebook.com/2009/02/facebook-privacy/>

AllFacebook

10 Privacy Settings Every Facebook User Should Know

Posted by Nick D'Amico on February 10, 2009 at 10:00 AM

Everyday I receive an email from somebody about how their account was hacked, how a friend tagged them in the photo and they want a way to avoid it, as well as a number of other complaints related to their privacy on Facebook. One by one, we're being inundated with requests to let me know that they would be receiving me as a friend from Facebook because he was "going to make a shift with my Facebook use - going to just mostly family stuff."

Perhaps he was tired of reading my status updates or perhaps he didn't want to view photos from his personal life. Whatever the reason for seeking out Facebook privacy, I figured that many people would benefit from a thorough overview on how to protect your privacy on Facebook. Below is a step-by-step process for protecting your privacy.

1. Use Your Friend Lists

I can't tell you how many people are not aware of their friend lists. For those not aware of what friend lists are, Facebook describes them as a feature which allows "you to create private groupings of friends based on your personal preferences. For example, you can create a friend list for your friends that meet for weekly book club meetings. You can create friend lists for all of your organizational needs, allowing you to quickly view friends by type and send messages to your lists."

There are a few very important things to remember about friend lists:

<http://www.allfacebook.com/2009/02/facebook-privacy/>

10 Facebook Privacy Settings:

1. Use Your Friend Lists
2. Remove Yourself From Facebook Search Results
3. Remove Yourself From Google
4. Avoid the Infamous Photo/Video Tag Mistake
5. Protect Your Albums
6. Prevent Stories From Showing Up in Your Friends' News Feeds
7. Protect Against Published Application Stories
8. Make Your Contact Information Private
9. Avoid Embarrassing Wall Posts
10. Keep Your Friendships Private

Facebook for Parents

Presented by Technology Lab @ Stanford University - 2009

Parents Need to Understand Facebook

To help kids reach their full potential, parents today must know about Facebook. That's the purpose of this website and related materials.

A group of students at Stanford's Center for Parent-Youth Relations (CPYR) have created this website to help parents understand Facebook. The website is a free resource for parents of teens and young adults. It contains a variety of information, including a guide to Facebook's privacy settings, a list of common Facebook mistakes, and a list of resources for parents.

We will repeat this class series later in 2009. If you'd like to be notified, please sign up here.

Parents can also sign up for a free newsletter about Facebook, created especially for parents of young people using the service.

We help you think clearly about Facebook

In our work with parents, we focus on "how to think about Facebook" more than "what to do." Our "how to think" approach encourages parents to think with whatever comes next, not in a panic. We want to help you, as a parent, think about Facebook in a way that is helpful to your child's growth and development. We want to help you think about Facebook in a way that is helpful to your child's growth and development. We want to help you think about Facebook in a way that is helpful to your child's growth and development.

Come to join Facebook as "Pleasant Bubbles"...

Some parents worry about joining Facebook because they don't want to invade on their child's privacy. They see it as spying in their kid's bedroom. This view of Facebook as a private bedroom - is not accurate. This is not a place where a kid's private life is kept. It's a place where a kid's private life is kept. It's a place where a kid's private life is kept.

#1 - Strangers don't enter a kid's bedroom. But on Facebook, kids can interact with strangers.

The Internet is not Private

Just the facts

- Assume everyone is going to see everything.
- Nothing on the internet is private
- An alias provides only minimal protection
  - 44% of teens only use one screen name
  - Source: Pew Internet & American Life Project Teens and Parents Survey
- Deleted does not mean gone

What families can do

- Start a conversation with your children about what they do online. Let them know that you understand how important using the Internet and other networked devices, such as cell phones, are to their lives.

© CyberSmart! Education.
<http://cybersmart.org/>

What families can do

- Let your children know that safety challenges—such as protecting the identities of family members—are a shared responsibility of all members of the family.
- As a family, set rules that consider the age and developmental stage of each child. Hold family meetings to revisit these rules on a regular basis.

© CyberSmart! Education.
<http://cybersmart.org/>

Advice for Teens:

- Never use a screen name that could reveal your gender
- Use a different screen name for all the sites you visit
- Set your MySpace/Facebook page to "Private" — only your friends can visit
- Never put your home phone # on the Internet
- Never put your email address on a website

Facts for Consumers

Social Networking Sites: Safety Tips for Tweens and Teens

You've probably learned a long list of important safety and privacy lessons already. Look both ways before crossing the street, buckle up, hide your diary where your nosy brother can't find it, don't talk to strangers.

The Federal Trade Commission, the nation's consumer protection agency, is urging kids to add one more lesson to the list: Don't post information about yourself online that you don't want the whole world to know. The Internet is the world's biggest information exchange; many more people could see your information than you intend, including your parents, your teachers, your employer, the police — and strangers, some of whom could be dangerous.

Social networking sites have added a new factor to the "friends of friends" equation. By providing information about yourself and using blogs, chat rooms, email, or instant messaging, you can communicate, either within a limited community or with the world at large. But while the sites can increase your circle of friends, they also can increase your exposure to people who have less-than-friendly intentions. You've heard the stories about people who were stalked by someone they met online, had their identity stolen, or had their computer hacked.

Your Safety's at Stake

The FTC suggests these tips for socializing safely online:

- Think about how different sites work before deciding to join a site. Some sites will allow only a defined community of users to access posted content; others allow anyone and everyone to view postings.
- Think about keeping some control over the information you post. Consider restricting access to your page to a selected group of people. For example, your friends from school, your club, your team, your community group, or your family.
- Keep your information to yourself. Don't post your full name, Social Security number, address, phone number, or bank and credit card account numbers — and don't post other people's information, either. Be cautious about posting information that could be used to identify you or locate your office. This could include the name of your school, sports team, clubs, and where you work or hang out.

Blinklife: How to Help Social Network Addicts

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0JmYYTEasus>

'Flocking' behavior lands on social networking sites

By Sharon Jayson, USA TODAY

The interconnected web of our friends, family, neighbors and acquaintances may dominate our lives more than we know.

They've always been there, making up our social support system. But now, largely thanks to the burgeoning popularity of online social networks like Facebook, researchers are discovering a powerful influence on our connections — both online and off — really have over our lives.

"Those of us who study social networks believe they matter — that things do spread along social networks," says Claude Fischer, a sociology professor at the University of California-Berkeley.

Because social networks online are much more clearly defined than offline connections, they have been a boon to researchers. And studies are finding that despite the predictions from skeptics who worried that spending too much time online would be damaging to real-life relationships, the opposite appears to be true.

The findings, tracing from early research, suggest health and psychological benefits for those who "friend" and are "friended." But as with all new media, critics say it's much too soon to know about all the possible long-term effects online social networking might have — from growing obesity and musculoskeletal problems to loss of privacy and overreliance on communication.

"Social networking sites have brought social networks into people's consciousness," says Brian Wellman, a sociologist at the University of Toronto in Canada who started analyzing social networks in the 1980s and has expanded his studies to online.

For the most part, being part of a social network is good for you, research suggests. For example, a study in the month's Coronary Arteries found that social support and social networking offer benefits, from additional resilience to greater life satisfaction to reducing the risk of health problems. Other

Findings... suggest health and psychological benefits for those who 'friend' and are 'friended.'"

"For the most part, being of a social network is good for you, research suggests."

http://www.usatoday.com/news/health/2009-09-27-social-networking\_N.htm

Health Benefits

- "... social support and social networking offer benefits, from additional resilience to greater life satisfaction to reducing the risk of health problems. Other studies in the past two years have found that feeling like a part of a larger group helps in stroke recovery and memory retention and boosts overall well-being."

— Scientific American

http://www.usatoday.com/news/health/2009-09-27-social-networking\_N.htm

Health Benefits

- "We're not replacing everyday personal social networks with everyday online social networks. That's not the way it works. We're not substituting online for offline. We're augmenting."
- "We have more means of being in touch, and we seem to be using all of them."

http://www.usatoday.com/news/health/2009-09-27-social-networking\_N.htm

Connected: The Surprising Power of Our Social Networks and How They Shape Our Lives

by Nicholas A. Christakis and James Fowler

"(The authors) argue that our social networks actually comprise a 'super-organism.' Our lives take shape not just via those we know, our friends and relations, but through their friends and relations, even if we never meet those people."

— Michael Fitzgerald Globe Correspondent / March 9, 2010

http://www.boston.com/books/articles/2010/03/09/connected\_offers\_a\_new\_way\_of\_thinking\_about\_social\_networks\_and\_the\_world/

5 Ways to Cultivate an Active Social Network

Source: Cultivate an Active Network (Chris Brogan)

1. BE HELPFUL - offer your network advice or suggest people that can help
2. BE PRESENT - participate and contribute
3. BE SOCIAL - engage with as many people as possible...not to be confused with just pushing out messages to a list
4. SHARE THE LOVE - make it about them...talk about your network
5. PAY IT FORWARD - build equity by contributing to your network before asking for anything in return...and never take out more than you put in.

@Mark Smeckles IntersectionConsultingBlog

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/intersectionconsulting/3704908885/>

Thank You!

<http://homepage.mac.com/charlenechausis/>

cchausis

Charlene Chausis

Credits/References:

- Digital Domain - Facebook Is Getting Older Without Getting Old – <http://NYTimes.com>
- "Is Twitter for Twits and Facebook a Farce?" – retrieved from <http://SlideShare.net/easykeyshow>
- Permanent Record – Steve Dembo, Discovery Education
- Research on Social Network Sites – <http://www.danah.org/SNSResearch.html>
- "Your Digital Footprint" – retrieved from <http://Slideshare.net/shareski>